potential.

Q. No. 2 (iii)
The Rasoul (s.A.W) spent his youth in the sublime and dignified manner. He always restrained himself from indulging into the whordoms prevailing in the Arab society. He earned the supreme titles of Al-Amin and Al-Sadia, by virtue of his mobility of soul, purity of heart, strict adherence to truth and honesty and stern sense of duty. His life is a complete code of perfection for the youth.

Q. No. 3 (b) (1)
In any plot, conflict is as important as the plot, setting and characters. Conflict is an opposition between two opposing forces. The two opposing forces are:
Protagonist - who has a goal to achieve Protagonist - who has a goal to achieve Antagonist - who creates hindrance in the way of protagonist that must be overcome by the protagonist to achieve his desired end. the protagonist to achieve his desired end!
For any plot to be interesting there should be a conflict in the story. Conflict should be a conflict in the story. Conflict becomes the cause of the actions. It is of many types but the main are conflict between; many types but: the main are conflict between;
a man and a man, a man and his self, a man and his environment and a man and his supernatural. The conflict between man and his inner self is of prime importance in literature.
For instance in the novel Lord of the Flies, the major conflict is between civilization and man's inner evil. Evil of man's nature tries to dominate itself but civilization supresses it to lesser or greater degrees. This conflict in the novel between civilization and savagery, good and evil, order and disorder is being poitrayed through Ralph, the protagonist and Jack, the antagonist. Ralph tries to establish order on the island but inner evil takes over the Jack's tribe and the conflict gets resolved

ATOMIC AND NUCLEAR ENERGY AND ITS USES Man was sent into this world in the utmost level of perfection. Allah Almighty provided him everything he desired for. He was mesmerized by the beauty of nature and was eager to unfold its secrets. As he grew in number, he started dispersing into the world. As he came out of the nutshell of his comfort zone, he started grasping the hidden truths of mature and made several streams of science. His conscience helped him get control over the mature as Allah says:
"And we made humans the crown of all the creation." He made things for the benefit of humanity. But as he progressed his inner evil and greed to rule the world started dominating. He himself developed the things which caused harm to the humans only to get ahead of others. This state is demonstrated as:
"Power corrupts, and absolute power corrupts absolutely."
